

Memorial University of Newfoundland
Tenure-Track Position in Solid Mechanics

The Department of Mechanical Engineering at Memorial University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of solid mechanics and stress analysis, computational and/or continuum mechanics commencing January 2018 or shortly thereafter.

Applicants should hold an undergraduate as well as PhD degrees in Mechanical Engineering or a cognate area, with the proven ability for excellence in both teaching and research. In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to register as a professional engineer in the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador. Duties will include teaching a range of undergraduate and graduate courses, developing laboratory facilities, supervising graduate and undergraduate student research, and undertaking an active, funded research program. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Memorial University is Newfoundland and Labrador's only university, and plays an integral role in the educational and cultural life of the province. Offering diverse undergraduate and graduate programs to over 18,000 students, Memorial provides a distinctive and stimulating environment for learning. St. John's is a safe, friendly city with great historic charm, a vibrant cultural life, and easy access to a wide range of outdoor activities.
